

17th Annual Partnerships with CROs

Hundreds of clinical development and outsourcing professionals gathered in Las Vegas for the annual conference. Attendees were treated to a packed lineup of workshops, tracks, and keynote addresses covering the hot topics in clinical research and development.

1. Elina Dunn and Noelle Layton from Novartis check out the exhibit hall during a session break. 2. Dr. Karen Gotting-Smith, VP, U.S. Clinical Development, at AstraZeneca spends some time discussing her take on clinical development after her keynote address. 3. Almac's Matt Voicheck looks to rock clinical trials with a little Guitar Hero III on the Wii. 4. The Parexel team is ready to receive attendees at the start of the conference. 5. PharmaVOICE's Dan Limbach (right) gets a chance to meet NBA Hall of Famer Magic Johnson, who delivered one of the conference's keynote addresses. 6. The "chefs" from Pi are ready to discuss how patient recruitment can be as easy as pie. 7. The inVentiv clinical team revs up attendees who stop by the booth to learn about a host of services and products to drive clinical success. 8. ePharmaSolutions' Lisa La Luna addresses a full house during an interactive session on building stronger relationships with sites. 9. Regeneron's Genevieve Horbury stops by the PharmaVOICE booth to renew her subscription. 10. Attendees from across the industry share a moment at the RPS hosted networking party. 11. Cognizant's Rohit Wadhwa takes a moment for our photographer.
