

▶ Coming ATTRACTIONS

ATA 2014, May 17-20, in Baltimore, brings together healthcare professionals and leading telemedicine programs to share new clinical research, best practices, and innovative business models. It is the premier venue for remote healthcare technology, featuring hundreds of vendors and institutions in the telemedicine, mHealth, and HIT space. More than 6,000 healthcare professionals, representing more than 1,000 companies and institutions, are expected to attend.

The educational sessions at ATA 2014 offer training, information, and updates on issues vital to the practice and industry of telemedicine. The courses and peer-reviewed sessions offer attendees with information necessary to start a telemedicine service, grow a program, and make informed clinical and business decisions.
