Lesson 1	To explore ways of drawing lines when joining one point to another.	In this first lesson, children will begin by listening to the story 'The Dot' by Peter H. Reynolds, learning how the smallest mark like Vashti's dot, can be a piece of art. Children will then be guided through how to hold a pencil correctly before practising drawing a range of different lines.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Can children hold a pencil correctly? Are children able to connect one point to another? Can children use pressure to change the appearance of a line? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Slides Worksheet 1A/1B/1C Line Cards The Dot by Peter H. Reynolds Chalk (FSD? Activity only)
Lesson 2	To create patterns using repetition.	Following on from the previous lesson, children will look in more detail at the techniques they can use to change the appearance of lines by using different grades of pencil or by using different pressure. Children will then go on to learn how to create patterns by using repetition. As an alternative activity, children will be encouraged to make magic with crayons and watercolours.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Are children able to use repetition to create pattern? Express Yourself : Art : Year 5/6

	Learning Objective	Overview	Assessment Questions	Resources
Lesson 1	To explore how clothing can be used express ourselves.	Children begin the topic by exploring different ways to express oneself and identifying the ways in which they express themselves. They investigate how clothing can be a means of expressing their personality and opinions, looking at other people's outfits as well as designing some of their own.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Can children identify different ways they can express themselves? Can children identify aspects of a person's personality from their clothing? Can children use clothing to convey their own personality? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Slides Worksheet 1A/1B/1C Colouring pencils or felt tips Challenge Cards (FSD? Lesson 2	To observe and draw different facial expressions.	In this lesson the children take on the role of cartoonists, where they observe different facial expressions and how they are conveyed. They must look carefully at each facial feature and determine how it changes to show an emotion. They will then use these emotions to sketch cartoon faces showing a variety of different emotions.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Can the children identify different emotions from facial expressions? Can children describe how the features change for different facial expressions? Lesson 3	To create wire models to express body language.	Children start this lesson by creating a pipe cleaner person and manipulating them to show them being happy or sad. They then go on to explore what body language is and how bodies can portray emotions. They will then create a wire sculpture of a human and position them to show a particular emotion.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Do children understand that body language can portray emotions? Lesson 4	To explore how lines and fonts can express ideas.	This lesson allows the children to explore how lines and fonts can express different ideas and feelings. Whilst looking at the words of Keith Haring, the children are challenged to think about what different kind of lines mean or express. The children use their understanding of fonts and lines to create calligram portraits of themselves to express their personalities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Are children able to describe how lines and fonts can express an idea? Lesson 5	To explore how artists use colour to express themselves in their art.	Through exploring the artwork of Picasso, Kandinsky and Munch the children discover how colour can express the emotions, thoughts and opinions of an artist. Discussing Kandinsky's colour theory allows the children to reflect on their own responses to different colours and what thoughts and emotions they think of when responding to a colour. Children use these reflections to create an emotion wheel using colour and shapes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Can children respond and comment on different pieces of artwork? Lesson 6	To study the artwork of Chuck Close and explore his techniques.	The children are introduced to the modern artist Chuck Close who used fingerprinting to create large-scale portraits. They explore the different techniques Close used to create his artwork, including the use of a grid to transfer a portrait from a photo to a canvas. Reflecting the style of Close's work, the children create a self-portrait using their fingerprints.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Are children able to comment on an artist's work?
