

Figure S4: The total mortality at a 20% vaccination coverage level. The total mortality is lower for both strategies as compared to vaccination at a 13% coverage level (dashed lines). However, there still exists a point after which the mortality-based strategy is superior to the morbidity-based.