

Figure S1. Overall predictive accuracy of patients in the training set as a function of the gene expression fold change cutoff. The arrow indicates the fold-change cutoff used in the study that gives rise to the highest predictive accuracy.