

Supporting Information

Figure S1. Cross-sectional depiction of the relationship between infant age and shyness scores.

Shyness scores are plotted as a function of infant age in months. The solid line represents a regression line of the distribution. No obvious relation was found between shyness and infant age. R: correlation coefficient.