Pitt Promise

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to the advancement of learning and service to society. This is best accomplished in an atmosphere where members are encouraged to treat one another with mutual respect. By choosing to join this community, I aspire to uphold the following principles:

As a Pitt Student:

1. I will embrace the concept of an academic community, which abhors violence, theft, and exploitation of others.
2. I will commit myself to the pursuit of knowledge with personal integrity and academic honesty.
3. I will respect the sanctity of the learning environment and avoid disruptive and deceitful behavior toward other members of the campus community.
4. I will support a culture of diversity by respecting the rights of those who differ from myself.
5. I will contribute to the development of a caring community where compassion for others and freedom of thought and expression are valued.
6. I will honor, challenge, and contribute to the scholarly heritage left by those who preceded me and work to leave this a better place for those who follow.

By endorsing these common principles, I affirm my support for these values and resolve to support this behavior in others. This commitment to our common values is my promise to the University of Pittsburgh and its community of scholars.
