

[WATERFALL]

VOICE 1: But she's crazy.

VOICE 2: Dragon Lady.

VOICE 3: Sluts

VOICE 4: B-I-T-C-H.

VOICE 5: D-word, a Diva

MEGHAN: These are words you hear a lot. In the media, online, in peoples' homes... They're thrown around casually. And they're usually aimed... at women.

VOICE 6: Who does she think she is

VOICE 7: She's so crazy

VOICE 8: Ungrateful Bitch.

VOICE 9: She just wants attention

VOICE 10: So dramatic

VOICE 11: Who are labeled Angry black woman

VOICE 12: The Diva thing

VOICE 13: You're either a prude or a s-word sleeping around with everybody.

VOICE 14: Get over yourself

[HEARTBEAT AND EAR RINGING BUILD]

MEGHAN: It's time to cut through the noise. We're gonna get to the roots of these words...

VOICE: The word bitch came out of this Greek insult that meant women were dogs in heat begging for men.

MEGHAN: And understand why they persist...

VOICE: You know, the fix is in. It's by design. It's a way of keeping women in their place.

MEGHAN: Along the way, we're laughing...

MEGHAN: I love it, I wish I could take my own advice too

VOICE: My advice is great... I can't take it, but it's good...

MEGHAN: It's great! If only I could listen to myself...

MEGHAN: We're learning...

VOICE: The word hysteria comes from the Greek word for womb. And there's no way that a person who had a womb, you know, like, came up with this definition.

MEGHAN: We're reclaiming our own identities...

VOICE: Vibrant

VOICE: Content

VOICE: I'm very crass.

VOICE: Unencumbered

VOICE: Gregarious

VOICE: Sensitive and emotional

VOICE: and loving

MEGHAN: You can find Archetypes only on Spotify

VOICE: Yea, ya hear that? Now what?! I'm sipping iced coffee in an underground studio with a Duchess, where are you? (M laughs)
