About IE...

IE aims to inspire. We see leadership in its purest form as the ability to mobilize resources and to spark passion in others. IE's ethical standards are much more than a collection of intangible constructs; at IE, these abstract ideas come to life.

The leaders of tomorrow set out to make the world a more humane and cultured place for us to coexist in—and that's when IE innovation takes place. IE is an educational pioneer, dedicated to questioning the status quo and bringing about transformation.

But don't just take our word for it. IE offers you the possibility to customize your path and to choose your destiny.

IE began its journey towards excellence in 1973.

Today, you begin yours.

IE students are called on to become the architects of the future's global society. Through IE's emphasis on entrepreneurial thinking, students are encouraged to reinvent the world's institutions; to discover new business opportunities; to rejuvenate mature industries; to develop corporate venturing; to revamp their family businesses; and to launch new start-ups.

IE is regarded as one of the most dynamic and innovative business management institutions in the world; a place where new methodologies and platforms are tested, where you will experience disruption and where things happen fast in response to the constant changes taking place in the corporate landscape.

That is why we are always striving to offer a wide and varied range of educational programs, to work as a hub for research and debate on the latest trends in knowledge, and to assist our alumni with their professional growth throughout their careers.

The two most important assets in education are an excellent faculty and driven students. At IE, you will find a community of talented professionals from both spheres who share a passion for education and want to transform the world for the better.

IE is an eminently international institution dedicated to preparing future leaders through programs based on its four core pillars: entrepreneurship, social innovation, diversity and the humanities.

Entrepreneurship

Founded by entrepreneurs, the entrepreneurial vein runs deep at IE, where business creation is seen as an engine for growth, value generation, employment and social well-being.

Entrepreneurship is a way of seeing the world, a way of experiencing one's work, which can mean either creating your own independent or social initiative startup, or applying creative thinking to an existing corporate setting. Similarly, many of our students choose to apply their skills to their family's enterprises, adding a new dimension and dynamism to a traditional business structure.

All IE students study entrepreneurship as a core course, acquiring a pragmatic understanding of what it takes to raise capital for a new venture, developing the skills to identify the key aspects of a potentially good investment and designing their own business plans. Optional specialized courses are offered to complement this training.

IE's passion for entrepreneurship has materialized in Area 31, an inspiring space that hosts the entrepreneurship and innovation ecosystem gravitating around IE, and which is made up of students, investors, programmers, public administrations, corporate partners and anyone enthusiastic about promoting entrepreneurship.

25% of our students start their own company.

VENTURE LAB ACCELERATOR

Venture Lab is IE's startup accelerator, housed in Area 31. It is a hands-on program that guides aspiring entrepreneurs to bring an idea for a startup to fruition. Venture Lab is open to all IE students and alumni. All teams receive workshops and mentorship, and are eligible to participate in The Venture Day Madrid at the end of the program, where they pitch before investors.

VENTURE DAYS

Venture Days are part conference and part pitch slam competitions. They are designed to showcase IE's entrepreneurial talent, connect startups with key players, promote entrepreneurship and debate issues faced by entrepreneurs and investors. Venture Days are held throughout the world and in Madrid, and open to all public.

VENTURE NETWORK

Every Thursday @Area 31 (basement of MM31), IE hosts a pitch slam in English with startups and a panel of investors; pitches are 7 minutes, followed by Q&A from the panel and audience. It's a great way to improve your pitch, get feedback and network with people from within and outside of IE.

Life in Madrid

The campus for postgraduate masters programs of IE is around 20.000m<sup>2</sup> in size, spread across 17 buildings strategically situated in the Barrio de Salamanca district of Madrid, a very well connected area in the heart of the financial district of the city.

Madrid is the epicenter of culture, business and politics in Spain and is the ideal location to develop international business. The Spanish capital is home to over 27.000 organizations across many sectors, both national and multinational, as well as the most important Stock Market in Spain.

But Madrid is more than business and politics. Its geographical location gives it a valuable advantage: an exceptional climate. Have a pleasant walk on a sunny winter day or enjoy a spring day on one of its many terraces.

ARE YOU COMING TO MADRID?

Madrid is 300km from the sea (1.5 hours by train, 3 hours by car).

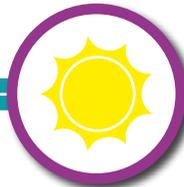

The name Madrid comes from the Arabic "magerit" meaning main stream.

Madrid has three of the most important art museums in the world: The Prado, with four thousand works of art including work by Botticelli, El Bosco, Velázquez and Goya; the Thyssen-Bornemisza, with works by Renoir and Van Eyck; and the Reina Sofía, with over 20,000 works from the 20th century, including the famous Guernica painting by Picasso.

Madrid is internationally renowned for its nightlife, old cafés, fun tapas bars and restaurants. It has one social venue per 132 people.

Madrid is the European capital with the most sunny days.

Admissions and Financial Aid

At IE, we seek dynamic, motivated, creative candidates with excellent professional and/or academic backgrounds who have the potential to develop the interpersonal and leadership skills demanded in today's top professionals.

To obtain a place on one of our masters programs, it is necessary to have completed undergraduate studies at an accredited university. The process may be initiated during the final year of your undergraduate studies.

IE offers a rolling admissions process. As such, there are no submission deadlines for any particular intake. However, given the limited number of places in the programs and the diverse student body, it is highly recommended you present your application several months prior to program commencement.

For those students wishing to study a program in a language which is not their native language, it will be necessary to include a language certificate.

* At IE we accept three entrance exams: the IE Global Admissions Test, GRE and GMAT (GMAT is mandatory for those applying to the Master in Finance).

** For complete information, we advise you to visit the website of each program to see the admission requirements for the specific masters program of your choice.

Final Decision

Studying at IE is an investment of time, effort and financial resources. To help students manage the funding of their program, IE Financial Aid provides access to scholarships and student loan programs.

Financial aid applications are received on a rolling basis, but certain scholarships do have specific deadlines. It is strongly recommended to apply as soon as possible, funds are limited and therefore the closer the intake is, the lower the amount of funds available.

To request financial aid, it is necessary to complete our online form available at www.ie.edu/financialaid once the admissions form has been submitted and always prior to the start of the program.
