Preface

Graphology is a scientific method of identifying, evaluating, and understanding a person's personality through the strokes and patterns revealed by handwriting.

Handwriting reveals hundreds of elements of the person's "personality and character", which includes glimpses into the subconscious mind, emotional responsiveness, intellect, energy, fears and defences, motivations, imagination, integrity, aptitudes, and even sex drive. There are over 100 individual traits revealed and an unlimited number of combinations.

Handwriting is often referred to as "brainwriting." Research scientists in the field of neuroscience have categorized neuromuscular movement tendencies as they are correlated with specific observable personality traits. Each personality trait is represented by a neurological brain pattern. Each neurological brain pattern produces unique neuromuscular movements that are the same for every person who has that personality trait. When writing, these tiny movements occur unconsciously. Each written movement or stroke reveals a specific personality trait.

Handwriting analysts identify these strokes as they appear in handwriting and describe the corresponding personality trait.

Handwriting analysis can be learnt by anyone who has a genuine interest to read and practice the analysis on an ongoing basis. One need not be a psychologist to be a master of graphology. Anyone can master this art if they are serious and dedicated enough.

Question 1

The middle zone of the handwriting is strong, and this writer talks a lot. What type of 'a' will you find in writing?

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 2

Liar, liar pants on fire. Who is a pathological liar?

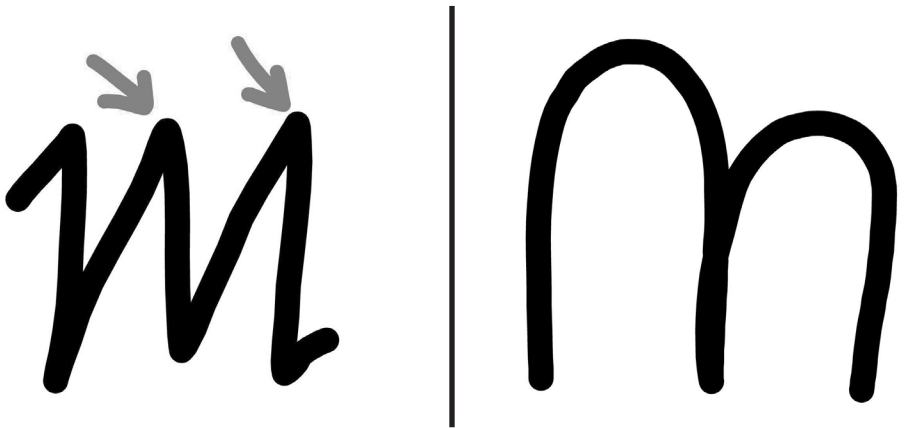

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 3

I want to hire someone for a job. The candidate should have a lightning-fast mind and instantly understand situations and people. Which letter 'm' show us these qualities?

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 4

In Graphology, if the writer tends to write the capital letter 'I' in an anti-clock direction, opposite to what is taught in school to cursive writers (clock-wise), the writer can pretend to follow and obey but secretly go against and disobey the set norms. This oppositional and hidden rebellious nature is usually found in people with an antisocial personality disorder. What words best describes this pattern in Graphology?

*I would love to be close enough to look into your eyes so that I can see all the things you hide inside.
I would love to be close*

Covert Defiance

Intransigent Behaviour

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 5

Which capital letter 'I' shows that the writer has a conflict of ideas and thoughts with their father or any father-figure-like-person.

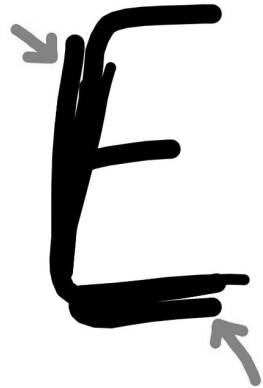

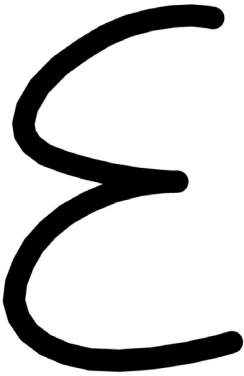

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 6

This formation of letter 'E' shows that the writer is cultured, loves his culture, and has a refined taste.

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 7

Which set of letters show deep-seated anger or resentment in the writer?

m h a h b k l

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 8

Which i-dot shows the desire for attention?

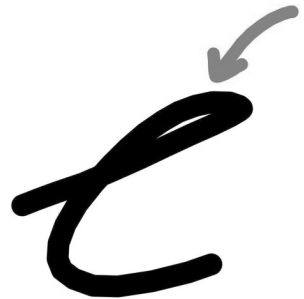

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 9

Who is a selective listener?

✓ Tick the correct answer.

Question 10

Who uses the tact of diplomacy when and where required?

✓ Tick the correct answer.
