

A cartoon illustration of a red dog, possibly a Weimaraner, sitting and looking forward. The dog has large, floppy ears, a black nose, and a black collar. It is drawn in a simple, friendly style with thick black outlines. The dog is positioned on the left side of the page, with its body facing forward and its head slightly turned to the right. The background is plain white.