

Dr. Larry Johnson is a widely published author and photographer with more than 25 years of experience behind the camera, and a large body of work that crosses many genres. A respected academic and an acknowledged expert on emerging technology and its impacts on society and education, Johnson has written or served as editor for five books, eleven chapters, and has published more than 125 papers and research reports on the topic. He speaks regularly on creativity, innovation, and technology trends, and has delivered more than 175 keynote addresses to a long list of distinguished groups and organizations all over the world. He is the founder of the Horizon Project, which produces the acclaimed series of Horizon Reports that are used by nearly 5 million educators in 175 countries.