

Crocodile

Too many sleepless nights too many pointless fights too much pain
to want to go there again

Your love is kind of cruel
I'm just the kind of fool Who's taken in
By the friendly grin
Of the crocodile

I should just take cover
When those big teeth are starting to show
I must be one blind lover Cos I'm always the last one to know

You can't help what you are, won't push my luck too far I'll stop a while Till I see you smile
My crocodile
