

Save

Save some love
Save some love
Save some love for me

One man's hope's are another's fears
One man's joy only ends in tears
One man's face is an open book
One man's smiles just a dirty look

Save some love
Save some love
Save some love for me

One man lives and another dies,
One man stops and another trys
One man mends what another breaks
One man keeps what another takes

Save some love
Save some love
Save some love for me

One mans gain is another man's loss
One mans sin is another man's cross

One man turns and another cares,
One man keeps what another shares
One man's weak and another's strong
One mans right and another's wrong
One man's up and another's down
One lives on the wrong side of town
One man's here and another's there
And just like this song
We're not going anywhere

One mans gain is another man's loss
One mans sin is another man's cross

Save some love
Save some love
Save some love for me
