SPONSOR HIGHLIGHT @retextilequilts

Ashley is a high school senior that has a desire to use her passion for quilting as a way to help others while also promoting environmental sustainability. In 2021, she started ReTextile, a company that uses textile waste to make quilts to provide comfort to survivors of human trafficking. This month, ReTextile donated quilts for our ladies to enjoy. We are so thankful for Ashley Yau. Visit her website for more information.
