

3/2/2024

GRIMMETT ANNOUNCES NEW SONG SET TO RELEASE IN MAY

PRESS RELEASE

North Canton, OH— 3/2/2024 — Today at Kent State University at Stark, Julia Grimmiett announced a new song set to release in May , after a concert featuring herself and a few other artists.

“I’ve been working on this one for quite a while with some amazing people,” she said at the event, “It’s something that I’m really proud of. I can’t wait to share it with everyone!”

POSITIVE CUSTOMER IMPACT

Many people have been speculating when the next song would be released, with her last single “Up” having been released in April of 2023, available for streaming on all platforms.

“I love my mom and I am very proud of her for making more music,” said Nala, her cat. “Even though it is very annoying I am looking forward to it.”

THE PRERELEASE FOR HER NEW SONG IS CURRENTLY AVAILABILITY

The prerelease for her new song is currently available to download at juliagrimmett/prereleasedownload.com.

###

Julia also announced the name of the song, titled “Doomsdate”. She refused to elaborate any further, stating, “It is kind of a surprise. I will say I have put a lot of love and hard work into it, and I’m very excited to say that there won’t just be a song release, but a music video to go along with it.” Julia’s last music video was for her song “Lost in the Sky” and currently has over 1.1k views on YouTube.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Julia Grimmatt

740-575-5424

julia.j.grimmatt@gmail.com

www.juliagrimmett.com

