ABSTRACT

ETF Token is made to putting pressure to SEC to pass the Bitcoin ETF and submit the apply for them to pass with the documents that are required later on. Once SEC pass ETF with other companies, we will refund all the profits that we have made back to all of the investors. 60% of token would be for sale and 40% would be for getting all the documents to apply to SEC and some donations to places or people or pets that need our help. We as the team are just hoping SEC to pass it already. Bitcoin has brought to the world sensations about crypto markets, NFTs, and donations to different countries without taking lots of time. It does deserve to become more useful and be traded as ETF. In many countries like Canada they either have ETF or getting prepared for ETF, which tells the world that it's been proven. We will submit when everything is ready. Within this year, we would make it to SEC and it is time for us to bring the sensations to the world! We are same humans that love cryptocurrencies just like all those investors in crypto market!

VISION

Our vision is to pass the ETF in the future to SEC. In our thoughts, only ETF and community is the main thinking. With cryptocurrencies in general, and ETF in particular coming from a small user base we acknowledge that our vision is lofty.

To mitigate this, we plan on taking on individual subsets of the overall market by developing solutions to solve real world problems which are not only acceptable to early majority investors, but also to our investors in general. All of our investors and community members are very important to us and they mean more than anything to us. ETF isn't panacea for every single problem that exists, but we do believe we can resolve many of the common friction points with the provision of basic blockchain knowledge and our strong community.

DONATIONS

At ETF one of our most important goals is to improve the lives of all of our investors.

HOW DONATIONS WOULD WORK OUT

We could easily get in touch with emails throughout the researching. Not only humans are important but also pets and plants are important to live together. We would love to improve their lives as well. This would be great opportunity for us to donate to them all.
