STONE SHEEP, GRIZZLY BEAR, CARIBOU, MOOSE, WOLF HUNTS IN THE YUKON TERRITORY

The Yukon Territory is renowned for its wild and uncompromising land which is home to some of the most abundant big game in North America. This outfitter holds the license to operate in the largest game-guiding area in the Yukon. It is located in south-central Yukon, northeast of Whitehorse covering approximately 205,824,000 acres (321,600 square miles) of hunting paradise. Large areas of the outfit are remote; accessible only by plane or horseback, and a northern part of the area has never been commercially hunted. The terrain, which ranges from mountains, high plateaus, grassy slopes and forested valleys provides natural habitat for all species of big game. Numerous lakes and streams offer great fishing for the sportsman.

The primary games in the area are Stone and Fannin Sheep, Grizzly Bear, Caribou, Alaska/Yukon Moose, Wolves and Wolverine. Game birds consist of Ptarmigan and grouse. Lakes and streams offer abundant Arctic Grayling and Lake Trout.

Hunters are flown into one of our base camps by plane. Our base camps are well located for easy access to big game. Our camp facilities are simple and straight forward yet comfortable. Camp facilities include tent-frames, with ample room for two people, log and frame buildings equipped for dining where applicable, a boat for fishing, first aid equipment and suitable communication equipment. Each hunter is assigned a licensed guide for the duration of the hunt. This ensures that you will receive top quality personalized service.

There are two airlines that fly to Whitehorse, Yukon. Air North (www.flyairnorth.com) connects in Edmonton, Alta, Calgary, Alta and Vancouver, B.C. and Air Canada (www.aircanada.ca) which connects in Vancouver. Upon arrival in Whitehorse an expeditor will meet you at the airport and make sure that you get to your hotel and on the way to base camp. You will be transported to the hunting area the day before your hunt begins, therefore you should ensure that you arrive in Whitehorse, prior to the day of transportation. The outfitter states that he is not liable for any changing of schedule due to weather or late planes etc.
