HUNT DESERT BIGHORN SHEEP IN MEXICO ON AN ESTATE

(ovis Canadensis Mexicana)

Hunt the beautiful Sierras for North America’s most prized big game animal: The Desert Bighorn Sheep. Since 1976 this Outfitter has operated in Sonora State on the west coast of México with over 1,200,000 acres of privately leased ranches. His properties are strictly managed for trophy Desert Sheep, Mule Deer, plus Coues Deer and Dove. He has increased and improved the quality and population of the different species due to his continuous participation in conservation programs. This is a 100% family owned and operated business, with personalized attention to each and every hunter, with the participation of a son and 3 of his 4 grandsons. The management program has paid off by producing the largest Mule and Coues deer in Sonora.

This outfitter offers you an exclusive package on 5,000 acres when your aim is to wrap up the Grand Slam. The hunt takes place on the West Coast area of Sonora. The area has an abundance of mature rams. Average size of ram taken is 177 SCI. If a trophy ram of this class is what you’re looking for, this outfitter can provide you with a chance for your trophy.

HUNT FREE-RANGE MULE DEER IN MEXICO

(Odocoileus hemionus)

The location for this hunting program is the semi-desert of Sonora. This environment is the perfect habitat for Desert Mule Deer. During your hunt, you'll be offered facilities that include clean beds, bathrooms, electricity and modern communications with experienced personnel to service all your needs. You can expect to see several nice bucks daily, between 160 to 200 points.

Guests rise at 5:00 a.m., have an American style breakfast and then head to the hunting areas with an assigned guide. The hunt is done on the basis of one guide per hunter. The hunt will be a combination of walking and driving. The guide will lead you to the hunting areas, where you'll hunt until sunset, with a lunch break and a siesta. In Sonora, you'll be hunting in flat country of cactus and tangled brush. Any sighting may mean a quick shot. The average shooting range is 150 yards. Sonora's desert is forbidding, but is an ideal habitat for healthy population of record book bucks. You can expect to see several nice bucks daily, between 160 to 200 points. Price 7 nights, 6 days $11,500

Estate Hunting and Free Range Hunting

Free-Range Hunting Desert Bighorn Sheep

HUNT DOVE IN MEXICO

The famous Sonora Green Belt offers the best hunting region in Northwest México, particularly for Mourning and Whitewing doves. Usually guests head out to the shooting areas at 6 a.m.; arriving approximately 45 min. later. Upon arrival, hunters are placed into position and the action begins. Every hunter is provided with a bird boy, who will carry the shells, refreshments and retrieve the birds, all under the supervision of the guides, who will take care of every detail. After the afternoon shoot, hunters head back to the hunting lodge, where they'll cleanup and rest. Each day ends with a celebration of the hunt and a superb dinner.
