HUNTING IN NEPAL

Hunt Bharal, Himalayan Blue Sheep

(pseudis nayaur)

The Himalayan range presents many mountains over 24,000' and the highest peak in the world, Everest. Hunting here, at present, consists of Blue Sheep, Tahr (hemitragus jemlahicus (Greek for half goat), Muntjak (muntiacus) (known as Barking Deer, the oldest known deer, appearing 15-35 million years ago) and wild boar. Hunt muntjak and boar at no extra cost. Have your camera ready to take photos of the Serow (capri cornis sumatrensis), Goral (naemorhedus goral), Blood Pheasant, and Himalayan Snow cock (Tetraogallus himalayensis), as they are not huntable. No second Blue Sheep or Tahr trophy is permitted. It is my opinion that this is the most inspirational of all the mountain hunts.
