

Emotional Clearing:

Just as we target specific areas of the body with essential oils, herbs, medications, etc., to bring about physical healing to a specific area of the body. Emotional Clearing is performed with Essential oils and Kinesiology Testing. Helping to target “Feelings and Emotions” and get to the heart of what is needed in addressing emotional and physical issues.

This modality releases negative feelings and emotions, teaching them how to positively release them. Feelings such as; sadness, anger, anxiety, disappointment, guilt, regret fear, hatred, jealousy, inadequacy, sexual issues, depression, and the like. It brings about healing caused from deep wounds, trauma, etc., helping them to feel good about themselves, past or present relationships and to be at peace with whatever it is.
