INTRODUCTION

The Asia Pacific Confederation of Chemical Engineering (APCChE) holds a bi-annual congress for the Asian Pacific community of chemical engineers, industrial chemists and related professions to come together to discuss latest developments in their respective fields, to celebrate outstanding achievement and to share lessons learned.

WHY SHOULD YOU EXHIBIT?

The APCChE Congress is an opportunity for presentations to be made by academia, industry and the regulators, and is the venue for meaningful exchange of ideas amongst those working in the field of chemical and process engineering. It also provides a forum for plenary and other pre-eminent speakers to present the innovation, cutting edge research, technology, government regulation and industrial developments.
