KEISHOO-- “Passing on from one generation to the next...”

Romanization of the Japanese word is “Keisho”, however, from what we have learned from our late “Sensei”, Nobuo Takeno and Robert Kishaba, the Okinawan spelling and pronunciation dictate that this be Romanized and written as “Keishoo”. In our effort to be respectful and mindful of our mentors, as a committee, Nanzan decided to spell this word in the “Okinawan” manner, as “K-E-I-S-H-O-O”.

This year, Nanzan decided upon “Keishoo” as our 2018 Anniversary theme. Defined as “To receive and pass on”, from ancestral Okinawa, we receive our cultural identity and heritage from our Issei, and share their legacy with our children, through story, song, & tradition.

A story: OKINAWAN GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF HAWAII– THE FIRST 25 YEARS....by Nancy Yogi

It started with “The Workshop”. The Okinawan Heritage Club started as a result of a genealogy workshop conducted by Dr. Bernice Hirai and the Hawaii Hiroshima Heritage Study Group. Along the way its name was changed to “Okinawan Genealogical Society of Hawaii”. She beams proudly when stating, “Among all the clubs I helped start, the Okinawan genealogy club has blossomed into the largest, most active, and successful.”

On March 20, 1993, a month after the workshop, then president of HUOA, Warren H. Higa held a meeting with 35 present to discuss the idea of forming a club. Thirty four signed to become the first members of the Okinawan Heritage Club. On September 17, 1994, 24 members signed as charter members of Hawaii Okinawa Ken Heritage Club. On October 18, 1997, the By-Laws were signed. The name was changed to Okinawan Genealogical Society of Hawaii, adding the genealogy component to UOA. The club’s activities and accomplishments are listed in the highlights, with each having its own story to tell.

Meetings were held on the 2nd floor of the Higa building until membership grew. The mezzanine above the Legacy II Ballroom offered a larger meeting place until climbing the stairs to the second floor meeting room became a challenge for some members and space was again becoming an issue. With the extension project of the Higa building and the grand opening of the Serikaku Chaya in 2005, meetings moved to the Serikaku Chaya in 2006 where we continue to meet monthly.

An informal membership count reveals the numbers joining OGSB increasing each year. In 1993 membership grew from 34 at the first meeting on March 20, 1993 to 54 for the year 1993. In 2003, we had 92 listed as members. Ten years later in 2013, the membership was 121. Today, we have a membership of about 190.

An unofficial count done in 2017 shows 160 members on Oahu, 2 on Hawaii Island, 1 on Maui, 13 on the continental United States from California to Delaware, 2 honorary members from Okinawa, and 4 of unknown origin.

Translation of MIHAIYU – ARIGATO

Like a breeze of gentle wind
The heart of islanders
Has never changed
The songs of the island have not changed
Reminisce about the past with friends
Smiling face of grandfather
Always, always
Have a long life
Thank you, thank you
From the bottom of my heart thank you

People were born and raised
Thought of your homeland
Although separated far away
Will not forget forever
Protected from rain and wind
The parent who had raised me
That compassion is dyed in my heart
Proceed to live with it always
Thank you, thank you
From the bottom of my heart thank you

Opening Words from

2018 President Rodney Kohagura; Sansei; Ginowan

Welcome to the Okinawan Genealogical Society of Hawaii (OGSH) 25th Silver Anniversary Celebration. OGSH started in 1993 as the Okinawan Heritage Club and adopted the logo "We link with our past to perpetuate our heritage." Through the years we have established and expanded our networks by conducting and attending many local workshops and more recently at the Okinawan Festival and East West Center. Our outreach has gone global to Okinawa (Taikai and OPL) and to Uchinanchu establishments in South America. Some of our special projects were the development of the Hawaii Immigrant Database, Short Story Books, Ryukyu Name Bookmarks, and offering weekly individual assistance on genealogy research.

So what's next for OGSH? Where are we going? We should continue to do what is beneficial to our members and HUOA. We will encounter new challenges of changes to come. We are blessed with many members who can contribute their gifts of knowledge and experiences to make OGSH move ahead. It is our obligation and vital that we continue to perpetuate our heritage and culture for future generations.

Ippee Niffee Deebiru to all of you in attendance and especially the 2018 Silver Anniversary Committee (Nanzan) for planning this special event.

2018 VP Donna Nakazato Nakamura, Sansei, Motobu

I'm delighted and honored to be a part of our 25th anniversary celebration where we can pause to consider the journey that was embarked on by our charter members who had the foresight and vision to create OGSH. Ours is not a solitary journey; we take along the legacy of those who came before us, those who walk with us now and those who will come after us. Through the efforts of many individuals seeking to learn more about their roots, personal family trees have grown deeper roots and sprouted new branches and leaves that collectively has become a forest. It is a "reforestation" effort for our motherland and in our current homeland and reminds us how connected we remain although separated by time and a vast ocean. As the leaves in this forest rustle with time, I can hear the hush of soft voices in the winds from long ago saying "ukaji deibiru". And those words also resonate with those of us who continue this journey of discovery and look to our roots with gratitude. Chibariyo!

2018 Anniversary Co-Chair Nancy Kaneshiro Yogi, Nisei, Gushikawa

"Who am I?" The question that spurred me to attend the genealogy workshop held in 1993.

Born in a household where Uchinaaguchi was the spoken language, and raised with family surrounded by folks speaking the native language, I never knew what being Okinawan was. Only after becoming involved with OGSH did I learn about myself. I am grateful for this journey with OGSH and look forward to continue learning with others sharing the same interest.

To help a researcher begin, the tools I found most helpful are the translated information on the Immigrant Data Base and our Guidebook, two OGSH developed projects taking 14 years and 3 years to complete. The most heartwarming and gratifying moment is the joy seen and felt when a connection is made.

2018 Anniversary Co-Chair Theresa Kakazu Tom, Sansei, Shuri

Since early 2018, Nanzan Committee has been working diligently to present a fabulous 25th Anniversary which our pioneering charter members fittingly deserve. I hope our goals have been achieved and all will appreciate the fruits of our labor.

OGSH has taught me valuable lessons about Okinawa, Japan, and people, myself included. Its members have colorized and enriched my life tremendously. And most significantly, I've finally found two family relatives in Okinawa, after seven years of wishing, hoping, and researching, thanks to the Anniversary Tour, OPL, Nancy Tome, & Penny Sakamoto. Together, Penny and I went to Okinawa on our first trip, attended the 2011 Taikai, and joined OGSH upon our return, and together, we both met our newly discovered relatives on our second trip. It was truly a remarkable and exciting odyssey I'll never forget! Aloha, Mahalo & Ippee Niffee Deebiru!

My wish for all is to have more discoveries revealed to us for the next 25 years.

Happy Anniversary & Congratulations, Charter Members!

Thoughts of Charter Members . . . by Donna Nakamura

The following comments were garnered in an informal interview with a few charter members with the question "From your perspective, what has been the most significant accomplishment of OGS?"

John Tasato: The discussion started in 1990 with how to retain our Okinawan identity and heritage in the midst of a population and generation that was being "diluted" through marriage and exposure to many different cultures and ethnicities.

Louise Tamashiro: We started in 1993 with 24 members. A solid foundation was set with the leadership of John Tasato and others especially Dr. Bernice Hirai, June Arakawa and Nobu Takeno. Bob Kishaba especially enhanced this knowledge base with his vast knowledge.

Nancy Tome: We have been able to help people answer the most basic question people have of "Who Am I?" We are a group of people with a common interest dedicated to learning more about our Okinawan heritage and to appreciate it.

Ron Miyashiro: We have the privilege of learning more about genealogy from people with a lot of knowledge. The genealogy guidebook and speakers taught me a lot.

Bessie Nitahara: We have advanced tremendously in terms of membership and knowledge gained from our volunteer guest speakers.

Nancy Yogi: We've accomplished what we set out to do and we have had a huge influence in connecting families.

And our journey continues as we build on the foundation and vision of our charter members and ongoing efforts of our dedicated and committed membership.

With gratefulness we extend a "Ippee Nifee Deebiru"!

Kachashi-the Poem: By Clarence Nakasone

Kachashi is the tune of the soul.
Beating the drum
with a driving rhythm.

Sanshin sounds off
at top speed.

Beating sounds
push the music up, up, up!

Microphones dance
with shouting voices.

Words rushing and dashing out!
Flaming hearts pump and skip.

The first few in the audience
hesitantly come,

Four in a bundle,
three in a group.

The fever is getting
higher and warmer.

Two come together,
and the surrounding mood
gets hot and boiling.

A single dancer
approaches the stage, finally!

Amazing, just amazing,

All the traces of shyness fade away.
Attained is a stage of self-effacement.

Soon, "Smiling Flowers"
float down all over.

Microphones dance
with shouting voices.

Words rushing and dashing out!

Flaming hearts pump and skip.
The first few in the audience

hesitantly come,
Four in a bundle,

three in a group.
The fever is getting

higher and warmer.
Two come together,

and the surrounding mood
gets hot and boiling.

A single dancer
approaches the stage, finally!

Amazing, just amazing,
All the traces of shyness fade away.

Attained is a stage of self-effacement.
Soon, "Smiling Flowers" float down

All over.

A Tradition: KACHASHI-The Dance.... As explained by Clarence Nakasone . . . by Nancy Yogi

Kachashi is Okinawa's traditional dance done at the closing of a happy occasion. The original meaning of "kacha-shii", to mix by stirring or to "mix up" has become known as the Okinawan disco dance.

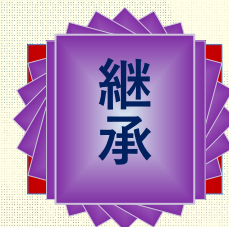

A free style dance, everyone, regardless of age, gender or cultural background, dances in his or her own fashion to this fast tempo music. A male performer will lightly make a fist while dancing and a female may prefer to dance open handed.

Another name for kacha shii is acha mee, or acha mee gwa. Acha comes from the Japanese word, aruku, to walk, while mee, from mai, meaning to dance, and gwa, cute or small in Uchinaaguchi.

A direct translation would be "dancing while you walk." A less formal translation would be "a happy dance" or "a dance of joy."

Your hands are kept high above your head and the constant movement will exercise your arms and fingers. The footwork will let your energy flow from high above your head down to the ground. This joyful dance will keep you young at heart, mind and soul. With spiritual and religious origins, it defined the lively natives of the rural areas. A group performance, it automatically makes you smile.
