TOP DRAWER HUMANIST CINEMA.
LUSH, EVOCATIVE AND AFFECTING.
THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

Featuring a captivating central performance from Liv Lisa Fries (Babylon Berlin), this affecting historical drama from multi award-winning director Andreas Dresen depicts the remarkable true story of a young German woman drawn into the anti-Nazi resistance movement during World War II. Berlin, 1942. When the shy, heavily pregnant Hilde Coppi (Fries) is suddenly detained by the Gestapo, she pleads ignorance to their accusations that she has aided her lover, Hans (Johannes Hegemann), in transcribing coded radio transmissions to and from Moscow. However, it appears there is more evidence against Hilde than anticipated, given many of the other activists involved in their group - who will become known as Die Rote Kapelle ("The Red Orchestra") - have also been arrested. Compelled to give birth in custody, Hilde is informed that her child may be taken from her. As Hilde awaits her sentencing, she reminisces about her involvement with Hans and their joyful romance, the most beautiful summer of her life. Anchored by the extraordinary Fries, Dresen's compelling and humanistic From Hilde, With Love is a deeply moving and inspiring achievement.

“ A MOVING CROSS-CULTURAL COMING-OF-AGER. TOUGH AND TENDER... WITH A BIG HEART. ”
THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

The acclaimed new drama from Camera d’Or-winning writer/director Claire Burger, Foreign Language depicts the bittersweet and boundary-testing friendship between two 17-year-old schoolgirls – one German, one French – as they grapple with how to understand themselves and others around them in a post-pandemic world. The shy and withdrawn Fanny is looking for a fresh start when she arrives in Leipzig by train from Strasbourg as part of a foreign exchange program, where she is staying at the home of her pen pal Lena, a political activist in training, and her single mother (Nina Hoss). The teens don’t immediately hit it off, but they soon develop a strong, life-changing bond, encouraging one another’s rebellious streaks in increasingly provocative ways. But when it is time for Lena to return the visit and stay with Fanny and her well-meaning parents in France, things begin to unravel... A compelling journey through not only the preoccupations of today’s adolescents, but also Franco-German relations, Burger’s fresh and dynamic film confirms her promise as one of European cinema’s brightest new voices.

FRY AND DUNHAM ARE THE CHARISMATIC DOUBLE ACT YOU NEVER KNEW YOU NEEDED.
 THE TIMES

Following the fall of the Iron Curtain and the dissolution of Soviet control of Poland in the early 1990s, New York-based music journalist Ruth (Lena Dunham, Girls) and her Polish father Edek (Stephen Fry, QI), a charmingly stubborn Holocaust survivor, set out on a tour of his homeland. Visiting Edek's childhood haunts, Ruth hopes to make sense of her family's traumatic past. The journey takes them from Warsaw to Łódź, her father's hometown, to Krakow and the Auschwitz-Birkenau concentration camp. Having left Poland and the past behind, Edek is reluctant to engage with Ruth's quest and his own trauma. So, he follows his own amusing agenda, undermining their trip with his unpredictable and eccentric demeanor, until the two visit the family's former home and meet the current occupants. Directed and co-written by Julia von Heinz, loosely based on Australian Lily Brett's award-winning novel Too Many Men, this touching and resonant drama is the third part of von Heinz's Aftermath trilogy which deals with the repercussions of the Holocaust in Germany and around the world.

DIRECTOR: Barbara Albert
CAST: Mala Emde, Max von der Groeben, Thomas Prenn, Liliane Amuat
LANGUAGE: German with English subtitles

As an aspiring young medical student, Helene (a mesmerising Mala Emde) arrives in the exciting, roaring 1920s Berlin with her sister Martha. Soon she meets and falls in love with Karl (Thomas Prenn) and the world seems to be their oyster. But, as the city's carefree ambiance darkens, the course of Helene's life takes a drastic, irreversible turn when the Nazis come into power. She meets handsome Luftwaffe officer Wilhelm and through strokes of fate and the cover-up of her Jewish ancestry during the Nazi era, she is gradually robbed of her identity. Despite the fear, the courage to make an outrageous decision grows, moved by the hope for a new beginning and ready to do anything to start a new life. Based on Julia Franck's bestselling German Book Prize-winning novel Die Mittagsfrau, Barbara Albert's adaptation is a touching and emotional portrait of one woman's resolve to survive. An epic film that spans decades, Blind at Heart is a stirring homage to female physicality and self-empowerment.

On a barren island, a mother and son must confront years of silence and misunderstanding in writer-director Hanna Slak's atmospheric fourth feature, that brims with tension and cleverly combines a chamber thriller with introspective family drama. When orchestra conductor Nina's (Maren Eggert, I'm Your Man GFF21) teenage son Lars (Jona Levin Nicolai) is injured in a strange accident at school, she decides to take a break from city life and her orchestra rehearsals to be completely there for him. For five days, she and Lars will head from Munich to an island in western France. A place imbued with fond family memories, the island in winter is no paradise, but instead windy, dark and cold. In the small beach house, mother and son are forced to face each other. While thoughts of music and her career haunt Nina, Lars withdraws further every day. Misunderstandings multiply, suspicions arise, and when a winter storm cuts the last connection to the mainland, a dangerous confrontation ensues.

Festival favourite Frederick Lau (The Perfect Secret GFF21, Victoria) delivers an outstanding performance in One for the Road, a deeply touching and distinctly authentic story set between Berlin's famous bars and sober therapy rooms. Mark (Lau) seems to have easily mastered life between his demanding job as a construction manager and rambunctious forays into Berlin's nightlife. That is, until he is stopped by the police one night, and temporarily loses his driving license until he completes a course. Mark bets his best friend Nadim that he will not drink any alcohol until he gets his license back, but his friends are skeptical that he will succeed. During the course he meets Helena (Nora Tschirner, Rabbit Without Ears) who also doesn't believe in his determination. While at first Mark is confident of victory, disillusionment follows, causing him to evaluate whether he has a more serious problem than he thought. Temptations lurk everywhere in this amusing tragicomedy from director Markus Goller (25km/h GFF19) that dives into the highs and lows of drinking and the meaning of true friendship.

But Berlin and crime have changed since then and the digital world has taken over, with his old contacts no longer of much use. Unwilling to go into cybercrime, it takes some time before he can secure a job via his handler Rebecca, who offers him a lucrative contract: the theft of a painting by Caspar David Friedrich. Rural police officer Andrea (Birgit Minichmayr, Downfall, The White Ribbon), has decided to end her unhappy marriage and transfer to a new position as a detective inspector in the city police department. THE GERMAN ACTOR [FRANZ ROGOWSKI] AGAIN BRINGS SEARING MAGNETISM TO LUBO.
THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER

In the winter of 1939 in Switzerland, Lubo (a superb Franz Rogowski, Victoria GFF21), who makes a humble living as a nomadic street performer, is called up to join the Swiss army to defend the border with Austria from a potential German invasion. Forced to abandon his family, he soon discovers that his wife tragically died while trying to stop the authorities from taking their three young children away. Targeted because they are Yenish, a minority nomadic community, Lubo's family falls victim to a national campaign for the 're-education' of street children (Hilfswerk für die Kinder der Landstrasse). Lubo knows that he will never have peace until he reunites with his children and gets justice for himself and his people - for which he is ready to go to extraordinary lengths. Loosely inspired by the novel Il Seminatore by Mario Cavatore, this sweeping drama from Giorgio Diritti follows a man's decades-long epic quest for freedom, justice, love and self-determination, that encourages us to rethink the blurred boundaries between good and evil.
