

Family Reminiscing with Photos

Most people like to talk about their family.

Encourage residents to bring along photos of their families to share with others, pass them around and try to guess who belongs to whom.

After looking at photographs, initiate a conversation about family.

You could try the questions below or add your own.

- Have you looked up your family tree?
- Do you know the origin of your name?
- What do you remember about your grandparents?
- Do you have any fun stories about your kids?
- How has your family dynamic changed over time?
- How did you meet your spouse?
- What were your family pets like?

Be sensitive, not everyone had a good family life and could be reluctant to share, and that's ok.

Have fun.
