

THE DAILY CHRONICLE

SATURDAY, APRIL 3, 2021

On This Date

1860 – The Pony Express began deliveries, reducing the time it took mail to travel between the coasts to around 10 days.

1885 – Gottlieb Daimler and Wilhelm Maybach received a patent for a water-cooled engine design. The invention was the precursor of modern automobile engines.

1968 – Martin Luther King Jr. delivered his “I’ve Been to the Mountaintop” address in Memphis. He said, “Like anybody, I would like to live a long life. Longevity has its place. But I’m not concerned about that now. I just want to do God’s will.” Tragically, he was assassinated the following day.

Daily Trivia

Chimpanzees and humans share over 98 percent of the same DNA. Chimps, like humans, use tools and communicate with one another.

Quote of the Day

“You cannot share your life with a dog, as I had done in Bournemouth, or a cat, and not know perfectly well that animals have personalities and minds and feelings.”

~ Jane Goodall

Happy Birthday!

Jane Goodall, born in England in 1934, fulfilled a lifelong dream at age 22 when she traveled to Africa by ship to study chimpanzees—and that she did. In Tanzania, Goodall immersed herself in researching the primates for over 50 years. For almost two of those years, Goodall lived among a group of them and was accepted as one of their own. Goodall discovered that chimpanzees could make tools. She now works on behalf of many animal rights organizations and has won numerous awards for her work.
