

THE DAILY CHRONICLE

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 2022

On This Date

1921 – The first issue of Life magazine was published. The cover photo featured the Fort Peck Dam in Montana. The magazine was known for the quality of its photographs and dominated the market for more than 40 years.

1984 – New Brunswick’s Fredericton City Hall, with its red bricks and central clock tower, was designated a National Historic Site of Canada.

Tree Trivia

All trees are mortal, but if conditions are right, they can live to an astonishingly old age. For example, stands of 5,000-year-old bristlecone pine trees have been found in California. Trees can endure because their vital functions are decentralized; that is, a large part of the tree can die without killing off the tree as a whole.

Quote of the Day

“Some things can change and should.”

~ Bruce Hornsby

Happy Birthday!

Bruce Hornsby, born in 1954 in Williamsburg, Virginia, is an American singer, songwriter, and pianist. Hornsby’s style is instantly recognizable, with his signature voice and piano accompaniment. His biggest hit song is “The Way It Is,” which he recorded with his band the Range, and speaks to racial and economic inequality in America. Other hits include “Mandolin Rain” and “The End of the Innocence,” which he cowrote with Don Henley. He married his wife Kathy in 1983, and they have twin sons, Keith and Russell. Hornsby is currently touring both as a solo performer and with his band the Noisemakers.
