SUNDAY, MARCH 19, 2023

Today is...

International Read to Me Day!
This special day is a reminder to read to the young child in your life.

On This Date

1931 – In an attempt to encourage tourism, the Nevada state legislature voted to legalize casino gambling and “quickie” divorces.

1954 – Willie Mosconi set a world record by running 526 consecutive balls without a miss during a straight pool exhibition. The record stood until 2019.

1954 – Air Force Lt. Col. John Stapp rode a rocket sled that subjected him to a force of 22 times that of gravity. The test was the first of many trials designed to determine the effects of acceleration on humans.

Daily Trivia

Meryl Streep has been nominated for an Oscar 21 times and has won three times.

Quote of the Day

“I’ve often been mistaken for Meryl Streep, although never on Oscar night.”

~ Glenn Close

Happy Birthday!

Glenn Close, born in 1947, is an American actress known for her impressive versatility. She also holds the dubious distinction of having the most Academy Award nominations (eight) without a win, a surprising fact given her powerful performances in The Natural (1984), Fatal Attraction (1987), Dangerous Liaisons (1988), and Hillbilly Elegy (2020), among many others. With three Emmys, three Tonys, and three Golden Globes, however, there’s no doubt Close is a master of her craft. She lives in New York and has one daughter, Annie.
