

THE DAILY CHRONICLE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 2021

On This Date

1718 – The English pirate Edward Teach, also known as Blackbeard, was killed during a battle off the coast of North Carolina.

1963 – American President John F. Kennedy was assassinated while riding in a motorcade in Dallas.

1977 – Regular passenger service on the Concorde began between New York and Europe.

1990 – Margaret Hilda Thatcher announced she would resign from her position as England's prime minister. She had been named prime minister in 1979, and no other prime minister in the 20th century held the post longer.

Daily Trivia

The strawberry is the only fruit with seeds on the outside of the skin. A strawberry has approximately 200 seeds.

Quote of the Day

“Champions keep playing until they get it right.”

~ Billie Jean King

Happy Birthday!

Billie Jean King, born in 1943, is a former professional tennis player who won an astounding 39 Grand Slam titles in singles, women's doubles, and mixed doubles. King was raised in an athletic family—her dad was a basketball player, her mom a swimmer, and her brother was a Major League Baseball pitcher. She started out playing softball before switching to tennis in her teens. In 1967, King became the top-ranked women's tennis player. Her exhibition match victory against Bobby Riggs, who had repeatedly challenged her to a game, is chronicled in the 2017 film Battle of the Sexes.