

DAVID GERBRANDS

Global Head of Advisory Services, Rabo Partnerships

David Gerbrands is the Global Head of Advisory Services at Rabo Partnerships, where he and his team manage a portfolio of projects globally with a focus on food- and financial systems transformation. He is strongly involved in the Agriculture Exchange program and is a Steering Committee member for the "Strengthening CFIs" partnership with the World Bank. David started at Rabobank in 1999 where he held various (management) positions in operations, securities services, and International Dutch Desk Network. From 2010 David has lived in Maputo with his family where he took up the position of Chief Commercial Director at the Rabo Partnerships participation in Mozambique, Banco Terra. David holds a master's degree in International Economical Political Science from the University of Amsterdam and an executive MBA from Erasmus University of Rotterdam.