

Million Heir-Williams ...was born in Glen Cove, New York. At the age of twenty, she moved to Los Angeles, California, where she worked for Kaiser Permanente for twenty-six years in management. In 2004, she moved to Onslow County, North Carolina, to become a co-owner of a family-owned and operated business. To complete the circle, Million moved back to California in 2018 with her husband. They reside in Southern California with their two fur babies and eight children between them with their blended families.

In 2012, Million and her husband, Dr. Stephen J. Williams, founded The Remnant Fellowship Ministries, where they are both pastors. The mandate for the ministry is "To Eradicate Biblical Illiteracy." They utilize video conferencing for their interactive teaching ministry, which equips the saints of God for marketplace ministry.

Million began Effectual Life Coaching (ELC) operations in Lancaster, California, in 2018. She has a proven record of establishing productive, equitable relationships, which sustain to be successful with everyone involved. Heir-Williams received her certification as a Life Growth Coach in 2016. Presently she is working with several non-profit organizations and entrepreneurs to enhance their business initiatives.

ELC is a member of the following organizations: Lancaster Chamber of Commerce, Soroptimist Antelope Valley, AV Holistic Chamber of Commerce, Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and Team Referral Network (President), Fellow of the North Carolina Institute of Political Leadership, Society for Collegiate Leadership & Achievement, Worldwide Association of Female Professionals, American Psychological Association, American Association of Christian Counselors, The National Association of Black Military Women and Citizens Commission on Human Rights International.

Million is currently attending Liberty University, pursuing her Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology with an emphasis on Life Coaching. Besides, she studied Business Management at Phoenix University.

As a former business owner of Kingdom Family Creations, Wreaths-N-Things, she joined the Jacksonville-Onslow Chamber of Commerce. Shortly after joining the chamber, Million volunteered her services with the Small Business Committee and the Minority Business Services Division. That led to a part-time manager position for the Minority Business Services Division, which transitioned into a full-time job. The chamber recognized her exceptional leadership skills and created their first Vice President position to assist in meeting the goals and objectives of the organization.

She is the founder/president of Seven Times Anointed Ministries International (STAMI), a non-profit organization, which is a ministry designed to bring hope, healing, freedom, and restoration to women, their families, and communities. STAMI has hosted several educational seminars. Some of the past titled workshops were “Youth Struggles, Gaining Confidence Every Step of the Way,” “Family on the Road to Recovery,” “Covenant Partners for Life,” and “Domestic Violence Will Not Be Tolerated” and several others, which were held at the Jacksonville Country Club. STAMI donated monies throughout the community and internationally to various charitable associations.

Additionally, to add to her repertoire she is a Chaplain from the University of Global Oved Dei Seminary & University in Florida (GODSU).

Heir-Williams was appointed as a member of the Onslow County Board of Commissioners for two years from January 2014 to December 2016. Former NC Governor Pat McCrory appointed Million to serve on the Board of Directors for the North Carolina Council for Women in October 2014. Her past community involvement included: Jacksonville Rotarian, Jacksonville-Onslow Chamber of Commerce, Guardian Ad Litem, Onslow County Airport Board of Directors, Onslow County School System Quality Council, Maximizing Student Opportunities Advisory Board, Onslow Hispanic Latino Association (OHLA), Mentor for Mothers of Pre-Scholars (MOPS) and many more organizations.

Her newest endeavor as author of Military Mom on a Mission: “An Advocate for Mental Health.” She is available for speaking engagements, pursuing book tours, and reaching her audience with family members of military families. Contact her if you are interested in any of her services.
