

2021 Woman of Distinction Law

Annie Hanna Engel
Chief Legal Officer, Hanna Holdings, Inc.

Annie is a leader advising in minimizing legal risks in the ever-changing transactional and regulatory landscape of residential real estate services.

In her role with Howard Hanna Insurance Services, Annie engages and directs insurance and warranty strategies that benefit the real estate consumer and real estate agent, within the real estate transaction and beyond.

In these roles, she seeks to further the understanding and implementation of the goals and missions of the various divisions and regions within the Howard Hanna family of companies.

Annie has served real estate industry groups on both a state and national level. Annie holds a bachelor of arts from Dickinson College and a juris doctor from the University of Pittsburgh School Of Law. She began practicing law in Pittsburgh and received a master of laws in Insurance Law from the University of Connecticut School of Law, later serving as the deputy director of the Insurance Law Center and Manager of Graduate Studies.

Annie is active in the regional community. She is a board advisor to St. Lucy's Auxiliary to the Blind, a member of the Cultural Trust Corporate Circle board, and secretary of the Howard Hanna Children's Free Care Foundation. She is also active in the International Women's Forum (IWF), Carnegie Museum Women's Committee, and YPO Pittsburgh. Annie serves as the audit chair of the board of trustees of Shady Side Academy and is a trustee of Kenyon College. She formerly served as a trustee to Dickinson College and as a member of board the United Way of Southwestern Pennsylvania.

Annie and her husband, Gus, live in Fox Chapel. They have three children—Will, Rory, and Jack.
