Foster Dog ID#: OH1554

Foster Dog Name: Oliver

Foster Dog Gender: Male

Coat Color: Merle

Mostly Purebred BT or mix? Boston/Frenchie Mix

BT Mix - elaborate here: I strongly suspect he is mixed with either French bulldog or English bulldog

Approximate Age: 3

Approximate Weight 32

Good with other Dogs? Yes

Good with Cats? Yes

Good with Kids? Yes

Crate trained? Yes totally

Housebroken? Yes, but marks inside

Energy Level: Moderate to active

Training: Sit, treat, outside, go home

My Foster is already: Neutered (Male), Up-to-date on Vaccines, Heart Worm Checked

Does your foster have any special medical needs or surgery needs? He has a very smushed face and snores LOUDLY, so the vet and I both believe he would benefit from brachysephalic obstructive airway syndrome (BOAS) surgery

MORE INFO: Oliver loves EVERYONE (human and canine), and he is very excited to meet any dog he encounters. The first week we had him he was VERY fixated on sniffing our dogs' private parts, more so than any other dog I've ever met, but that seems to have abated since he has been fixed. He is very playful and loving with both dogs and humans, and he will fetch when you throw a toy for him. He does mark both inside and outside, so we have had to put him in belly bands when he is inside. He walks fairly well on a leash and will pee, but for some reason he does not always poop; however, he will poop if I let him roam freely in the yard or have him on a lead. Oliver is fine with both women and men, but he prefers men and will sleep in my husband's lap any chance he gets. According to Oliver's history, he has been in 3 homes before, so I believe he just needs some stability in his life. I worry that the people who have had him before simply didn't take the time to train him, which is why he doesn't listen at times. However, we have only had him 3 weeks, and he has already adapted to our household very well and has proved he is smart and able to learn. Oliver is a young, energetic pup that needs someone who matches his energy.
