More Info: Brownie is settling down with a routine. There are 3 female Boston Terriers in the house. He tries to be amorous but they keep him in line! He eats from a raised puzzle bowl and drinks from a raised water bowl. This has stopped his regurgitation. We are feeding Fromm Whitefish and Potato Recipe Dry Food, moistened; 3/4 cup twice a day. He poops soon after eating. I remove his bellyband and he urinates outside every 2-3 hrs. He doesn't drink a lot of water. He likes hard chew toys, but NOT territorial with toys or food. Brownie sleeps in his crate at night in the living room. Occasionally, he barks but stops with a verbal prompt, "Quiet, Brownie". We give him a Nylabone with peanut butter on it at bedtime only.
