

Scott Kendall

BOARD MEMBER SINCE 2021

In addition to his experience as a litigator and appellate advocate, Scott Kendall offers a depth of expertise as a strategic consultant. He is well known for his work across all levels of government, across jurisdictions, and across political parties to design approaches that bring his clients positive results and disrupt negative outcomes. Scott has recently transitioned to the firm of Cashion, Gilmore & Lindemuth,

From 2015 to 2016, Scott left the practice of law to serve as Campaign Coordinator for Senator Murkowski's successful 2016 reelection campaign. From 2016 to 2018, Scott served as Chief of Staff to Alaska Governor Bill Walker, providing him with a keen understanding of state government operations, as well as the complex relationships between state, federal, and local jurisdictions. During that time, Scott helped execute Governor Walker's legislative strategy including the passage of landmark legislation transforming the way Alaska finances state government into an endowment or "POMV" model to protect the Alaska Permanent Fund in perpetuity.
