Zeta Psi Honors Fallen Brothers At Veterans Day Ceremony

In a solemn and long overdue dedication, Delta brothers who made the supreme sacrifice for our country were honored at a ceremony at Zeta Psi on Veterans Day, November 11, 2000. More than 50 alumni, actives, pledges, and guests attended the event. New plaques were dedicated honoring brothers serving in the Korean, Vietnam, and Persian Gulf wars. The plaques were placed alongside the plaques honoring those who served in World War II and previous conflicts.

The ceremony included the singing of Zeta Psi, We Pledge Tonight and Farewell Ode. Brother Philip Castrogiovanni '02 recited the poem In Flanders Field. Alumni brothers Douglas Fromm '64, Carl Burns '64, and Doug Clark '84 participated in the ceremony. The Grand Chapter was represented by Gamma Alpha Greg McElroy '70 (NYU). Sandra Holyoke represented Rutgers University.

We had some great comments from alumni recently: "I can hardly believe the progress in the past few years," said Frank Kneller '49. "Great job actives and alums—we are behind you," said Rutgers University Trustee Bob Laudicina '63.

It was great recently to hear from Monroe Weiant, our oldest living Delta Zete. We hope Monroe can return to the Banks for his Diamond 75th Reunion on May 12, 2001. For those who are counting, Monroe graduated in 1926!

Why Is The Delta Chapter Important To Me?

The Delta Chapter is very dear to my heart. The house was, and remains, a home for each of us for many different reasons. I would like to share with you some of mine.

As a freshman, I had no idea that I would be joining a fraternity—or any idea what one truly was. An upperclassman named John Zdebski stopped by the dorm room that I shared with Robert Strawderman '88. He told us that his roommates (Bill Ludwig, '86 and Eddie LaPerche '86) had also lived in Mettler 115 as freshmen and had together decided to pledge the fraternity. Rob and I attended a few events during rush and surprisingly were given a bid to join. We weren't quite certain that this was something we wanted to do in addition to getting accustomed to the new life at college. Our decision not to accept the bid was not a question of Zeta Psi being the right house. What fraternity on campus had (or still does have) a nicer house, the best brothers, or, as I would learn, the best parties? During rush some brothers discovered that I played soccer so they "unofficially" brought me into the fold—or should I say field—by joining them on their Keller Cup team. From my first game I was sold on the Delta Chapter. In the spring semester, when I told my mother that I was pledging a fraternity named Zeta Psi, she told me, for the first time, that her father was a Zete from Yale, class of 1914. This confirmed that I was in good company.

The house has meant many things to me as an undergraduate as well as an alumnus. As an undergraduate, it has been a source of pride, a symbol of status among my peers, and a place to socialize, have fun, meet women, and share good and meaningful conversations. It was also a refuge to enjoy a good home-cooked meal (thank you Aileen Darrow!), learn about the

Veterans Day Tribute Strengthens Bond

The following note was forwarded to Carl Burns '64 following the Veterans Day ceremonies:

Carl,

On behalf of the actives of the Delta Chapter I would like to thank you for the Veterans Day ceremony. The ceremony taught us about the true brotherhood that you and the alumni share. I am quite sure that our fallen brothers were watching down on you, sharing the same emotions that came forth during the day. Throughout the weekend actives engaged in conversations about what true loyalty and dedication are. To see so many alumni conversing with the impressive number of actives that attended was awesome. Make no mistake, it's because of what you did for this house on November 11, that our brotherhood is tighter than ever.

Thank you in Tau Kappa Phi, Phi and the Rest of the Delta Chapter

Delta To Host Regional Seminar

The Delta Chapter will host the 2001 Zeta Psi Educational Foundation Leadership Training Institute (LTI) February 16-18, 2001. Zetes from New Hampshire to North Carolina will be attending a weekend seminar with topics ranging from rush techniques to resume writing.

Zeta alumni are encouraged to attend a special Saturday evening dinner. There is no charge for the weekend's activities thanks to the generosity of the Zeta Psi Educational Foundation. Let's have a strong turnout and show our active brothers that fraternity membership is for life! For more information please contact us at RutgersZete@aol.com.

world, and be my home during my senior year. I learned to respect my fellow brothers and myself, to be tolerant of differences, and to properly manage my time. I also was introduced to the basics of home ownership and light construction! As an alumnus the house still provides some of the benefits I enjoyed as an undergraduate. But most important by far is that the house will always be a place to call home and a place where I have lifelong friendships.

A short time ago, I came to a point in my life where I felt it was important to write a will instructing my family of my final wishes. When considering where I wanted to direct some of my assets, I thought of my interests and philanthropies. Of greatest importance to me (besides my wife and family, of course) was my love for the Delta Chapter. I made a personal decision to name the chapter as a beneficiary in my will. I do realize that it is one of the most personal decisions someone can make. I encourage each of you to consider including the Delta Chapter in your will. (The legal name of the chapter is the Alumni Association of the Delta Chapter of Zeta Psi Fraternity of North America, Inc.) If you choose to do this, please notify the chapter or a member of the alumni board so that we can make you a member of our Heritage Society/Circle of Light.

Last, if you have memories of Delta that you would like to share, please send them by regular or electronic mail.

Delta Honored At Zeta Convention As Most Improved Chapter

The Grand Chapter bestowed the most improved chapter award on Delta Chapter at last summer's Zeta Convention in San Antonio, Texas. The actives earned the recognition for their outstanding rush, improved chapter operations, superior academic achievement, and expanded philanthropic program. Chapter Phi Andy Roche '01, Alpha Phi Chris Young '02, and Gamma Pat Carrigg '02 were honored to bring the trophy back to New Brunswick. Also honored was Elder Phi Doug Clark '84, who won an outstanding alumnus award for his efforts and service to Zeta Psi. Other Delta alumni in San Antonio were Ken Gitter '83 and Jon Yedvab '87.

The challenge is to continue to strengthen the Delta Chapter. The chapter got out of the blocks fast this fall. Achievements so far include another successful rush, which yielded 11 new brothers (double-digit pledge numbers for the fifth semester in a row), an outstanding Veterans Day event, renovations to the house, and the honor of hosting the Zeta Psi LTI (see related article on page two). And the year is only half over! We want a bigger trophy!

This year's annual gathering of Zetes from across North America will be held August 15-18, 2001, in Washington, D.C. The Hyatt on Capitol Hill will host the convention and is located just blocks from the U.S. Capitol. The convention planners are scheduling a week full of fun events including a program for spouses and children. A number of Delta Zetes are already planning to attend. Are you interested in joining them? For more information about the convention, contact the Zeta Psi Headquarters by phone at 800/477-1847 or e-mail at support@zetapsi.org.

Fire Doors, Sprinkler System At House Needed To Meet State Regulations For Fraternities

There have been many improvements at the Delta Chapter of Zeta Psi house during the past summer and fall semester. The Delta Chapter, in accordance with New Jersey state law for dormitories and fraternity houses, has installed new magnetic fire doors. This step was taken to meet the 2004 deadline established by the state of New Jersey.

Our next major renovation project is the installation of fire suppression sprinklers throughout the house. The state mandated this project following the tragic Seton Hall fire. Targeted completion time is September 2002. During the installation various parts of the house will have to be torn apart to accommodate the necessary fixtures. We are working with the system designers to maintain the esthetics of the house. With these additions, the Zeta house will be among the safest on campus.

Among other improvements this summer, the alumni of Delta Chapter funded the reconstruction of the Wayside room on the third floor. The room has been furnished by its tenants and has become even more desirable by the brothers of the house. Other renovations planned for the near future include the renovation of the deteriorated pillars and the reconstruction of the Heaven's Gate and Farside.

12 Accept Rush Bids

Fall rush at the Delta Chapter was successful once again. The brotherhood recruited potential rushees by going door to door on every campus and extending invitations. This method proved to be effective as we handed out 15 bids, 12 of which were accepted.

We began rush week with the traditional meet-the-brothers night where we became more acquainted with rushees over pizza and wings. On Tuesday we held a dart tournament to decide the Zeta Psi dart champion and awarded prizes to the winner. The next night we had one of our most enjoyable nights of rush with our annual Dating Game. Several women from ZTA courted our interested rushees. On the last night of rush we had a live band playing 80's music, which drew a large crowd to the house. As usual on Friday night we hosted the invite dinner where the rushees told jokes and recited movie lines—it was an extremely humorous event. Overall, this semester's rush was great, and we have added even more quality brothers to the Delta Chapter.

College Avenue Olympus By J. Najvits

O, for to be a Zeta Psi
And sit on the front veranda looking every passerby
in the eye;
And watching with a calm disdain
The unholy lowly as they walk by
On street terrain.
Clad in the smartest soiled dungarees
Give pedestrians well-executed freeze.
To recline in latest crimson jacket
Behind classic Greek colyumns,
Read "The Life of Henry VIII" by Hacket
And other learned volyumns.
To feel oneself is the better
Of any other Greek letter.
And not to give a fig
For even a Kappa Sig.
To single out with expert knowledge
The one true type of J. Joe College,
From the merely specious
Or facetious.

In short—to live by regulation
In fraternal association
In a kind of Rutgers Nirvana
A la Santayana.
For this, I wis,
Must be the highest bliss.

Phi: Delta Actives Are Closer Than Ever

This summer Gamma Patrick Carrigg '02, Alpha Phi Christopher Young '02, and I went to San Antonio, Texas, for the annual Zeta Psi Convention. We met with actives from other chapters throughout the United States and Canada. We also had the pleasure of meeting the officers of the Grand Chapter, including the Phi Alpha. It was a week filled with seminars by day and San Antonio nightlife after dark. We had a great time being that far away from the East Coast, but the highlight of the week was when we received the most improved chapter award.

This fall we all adjusted to rigorous class loads but still found time to have fun. As a chapter we are closer than ever before. During the last election it was very reassuring to have so many brothers interested in taking leadership roles. All the races for the major officer positions were decided by very close margins.

The number of brothers in house is on the rise. We are still not at maximum occupancy, but with 11 newly initiated brothers, who all plan to move in, the number of in-house brothers could near 40. The fall 2000 class shows real potential. As a senior, I am quite confident that with these new brothers the house will be around for another 153 years.

Teamwork Brings Positive Results At Delta Chapter

It has been a pleasure to be a part of the Delta brotherhood this past semester. It has been one of the best semesters that I have experienced since I pledged. The supreme council and all the officers have worked together with our alumni board and active members to make everything run as smoothly as possible. We have participated in a variety of philanthropic activities, which have resulted in better relations with the dean of fraternities and sororities, as well as the community of New Brunswick. We will miss the brothers who will graduate this semester, but our newly initiated pledges show great promise to uphold the solid traditions of Zeta Psi.

We would like to remind alumni and friends that the door is always open for you to stop by and visit. The active brothers greatly enjoy talking to alumni, hearing their stories about their time at the house, and learning about the history of our house. We also would like to thank you for your generous donations, which will keep the meaningful traditions of Zeta Psi alive for years.

For the third straight Olympics our own BOB KAEHLER '86 had the honor of competing in rowing for the USA. Unfortunately, Bob's three-time World Champion Heavyweight Eight boat did not win a medal. His long list of accomplishments includes making the '92 games in Barcelona, the '96 games in Atlanta, as well as the '00 games in Sydney. We know your "Big Brother" JOHN POKALSKY '83 was following the results closely on the Internet. Congratulate Bob for an outstanding career at 160 W. Pulaski Rd., Huntington, NY 11746-1521.
