HEARTS TO ART SUMMER CAMP

Hearts to Art Summer Camp is for kids who have suffered the death of a parent.

It is a unique performing arts day camp that brings together young people (ages 7 to 14) from the Chicago area to experience the healing power of creative play.

Through the exploration and creation of dance, theatre, and music, Hearts to Art inspires communication and collaboration, fosters emotional growth, and provides friendship, compassion and community. Through interaction with young people who have experienced a similar loss, campers understand they are not alone. Small group creative activities are facilitated by on-site professional healing counselors, providing campers a safe time and place to express and share their feelings with peers.

Hearts to Art Summer Camp is the 501c3 arm of Roosevelt University's Auditorium Theatre in Chicago. To learn more, visit: www.auditoriumtheatre.org/education/hearts-to-art-summer-camp/
