Your home is more than a space to sleep in. Home is a safe haven- where treasured meals are shared, kids grow up too quickly, and lasting memories are made. For most of us, our home is our greatest financial investment. At Cotton Creek, we believe your home should be built to best serve you! Your personality, character, routines, family, and needs should all be reflected in the design and execution of your custom home. We believe in quality. Cotton Creek was born out of the desire to build homes for people who value quality, integrity, and the attention to details. Building a home from scratch can be a daunting task, and managing expectations is everything! We work hard to effectively communicate all expectations within the process to make sure we are able to efficiently execute your vision. We look forward to serving the Hog Mountain community by creating homes that will be cherished for a lifetime!

Urbizo Homes was founded in 2002 as a painting company. It quickly evolved into renovations and custom home building as Urbizo Homes thrived through our nation's recession. Owner, Mike, is a state licensed residential contractor with a business degree from UGA.

Urbizo Homes offers more than just construction. We also offer real estate and design services. Payton, Mike's wife, specializes in interior design. When you choose Urbizo Homes as your custom home builder, Payton is a crucial asset to the home building process as she will be there to assist you in making the many design choices that come with building a custom home. Many homeowners are overwhelmed by the wide array of choices that are available to them when designing their home. Payton will work directly with you to help you make these decisions so that your home is everything that you have imagined.

Urbizo Homes strives for quality workmanship and dependability. Through listening and communication, we will bring your vision to life. Owner Mike Urbizo will personally meet with you to estimate your project and will oversee the work from start to finish
