In this workshop we'll explore simplifying a portrait into its basic components. We'll use techniques such as feathering, lifting, wet-into-wet, lost and found edges, and more. We'll discuss how to use a reference photo to achieve the results we want, and improve our portrait painting skills to be able to capture our loved ones in watercolor. Every step will be clearly demoed as we move through the workshop. Most of all, come have fun and expand your abilities.

Ted Head Bio

Ted's work has been published in American Artist magazine, SPLASH 11 and SPLASH 16, the Best of America Watercolor Artists & Artisans. He has also won over 85 awards, including dozens of "Best of" and 1st place awards, and has become a popular workshop instructor and show judge. Ted believes that when his brush dances between imagination and reality, something magical can happen. When it does, the emotional connection between him and his subject says it all. Design, values and color are the means to express a moment in time, captured in dramatic watercolor or oils. An avid kayaker, his paintings show a fascination with light and color, depicting nature's beauty, wildlife, pets, and people, especially his grandkids.
