

Congratulations to Virginia Meadows

Artist of the Year - 2021

Virginia is being honored for bringing her award-winning artistic talent and her leadership and support of JWS since she joined JWS in 1983, the second year after it was formed. Virginia has been active in leadership and supporting roles, as VP of Programs for about 10 years and assisting with shows for many years.

Virginia taught art at the Jacksonville Country Day School 1st through 8th grades for 20 years and started an annual art fair for students and their families. It featured local prominent artists such as Everett Draper and C. Ford Riley. Before that she taught art in Maryland for 10 years and was an area supervisor who did demonstrations, workshops, and conventions.

Virginia earned her BA and MEd at Towson University with a major in art and concentration in watercolor for her masters. She has participated in several art programs over the years to supplement her art education, including John Hopkins, Schuler School of Art, Savannah School of Art and Design.
