

Congratulations to JWS' ARTIST OF THE YEAR – 2012

Kathryn Hannan Milkey

Kathryn Hannan Milkey was selected as the 2012 Artist of the Year by a committee of previous honorees including Joan Dorrill, chairperson, Charles Stratmann and Carolyn Kelso. This once in a lifetime honor is awarded to a JWS member who has served the organization and contributed time and energy to keep the organization going and growing over the years. The honoree is also recognized as a good artist with a unique style.

Kathryn is inspired by the gestural nature of art. She thrives on capturing the moments of her personal experiences and finds that these times often mirror the experiences of those with which she comes in contact. Kathryn has traveled extensively throughout her life. She has painted scenes of Maine, Michigan, Kentucky, California, Hawaii, Wisconsin and here at home in Jacksonville, Florida, as well as England, Scotland, Russia, China, Italy, Austria, Denmark, Hungary, Ireland, Amsterdam, Netherlands, and Barcelona, Spain. Kathryn has been in Jacksonville, Florida for 40 years, has five grown children and six beautiful grandchildren.

She is a member of the Jacksonville Watercolor Society, The Jacksonville Coalition for the Visual Arts, the St. Augustine Art Association, The Hisshin Sumi-e Society of NE Florida, chapter of the Sumi-e Society of America, Inc., the Society of Mixed Media Artists, the Jacksonville Art Guild and The Miniature Painters, Sculptors & Gravers Society of Washington, D. C.
