

Terese Marie Muller

Artist statement: As an artist I am constantly striving for peace and harmony through my art. I seek a balance in values and color that is as pleasing as nature itself. My medium is acrylic, watercolor, inks, charcoal, collage and found objects on wood, paper and canvas from landscapes to figures in a realistic to non-objective style.

At the age of twelve I started my first formal art lessons at the Telfair Art Academy in Savannah, Georgia. Since then I have been seeking original ways of creating art through classes, schools, workshops and individual artists. After taking watercolor lessons some twenty years ago I fell in love with the medium. It forces you to become a better colorist and gives you the gift of being spontaneous. After taking what I have learned over the years from different mediums I have incorporated them into an ever-evolving style of my own. Art is part of who I am. I eat, breathe and dream it. As soon as I am filled with the creation of one piece, I am craving the next.

Biography: In Jacksonville, Terese is an active member of several art associations and past president of the Jacksonville Watercolor Society. She served in other board positions and has won several awards for her art. Her work can be viewed at her studio located at Studio 121, 121 W Forsyth St, Jacksonville, Archway Gallery in Atlantic Beach, Trends on Hendricks Avenue and Matthew's Restaurant in San Marco. Please view her website and blog for updates and shows.

www.teresemuller.com