A CIRCLE OF LEADERS

Small Talk is the coordinating agency for child abuse investigations in Ingham and Eaton county. We are successful because our agency facilitates a circle of professional leaders in healthcare, law enforcement, child protection, and family services, drawing on everyone's individual expertise and leveraging our collective ability in the service of children. Providing hope, healing, and justice to families impacted by abuse is a complex matter that can only be achieved by working together.

While our tireless volunteers and financial supporters are already a circle of leaders, the Leadership Giving Circle is an opportunity to organize this collective energy and connect our supporters while inviting new contributions to our work.

We hope that you will consider joining this group of passionate and courageous leaders who invest their time and talent into the critical work of addressing and preventing child abuse in Mid-Michigan.
