

Keith Carroll – Instructional Specialist, Marine Corps University, College of Distance Education and Training (CDET)

Keith is the Lead Instructional Systems Specialist in the Digital Content Department at the Marine Corps University, College of Distance Education and Training. He holds a Master of Education degree from Auburn University and is a doctoral student at Northcentral University in field of Higher Education Leadership.

For the past 15 years, Keith has worked within the education field in various positions, including a classroom teacher, online instructor, instructional designer, and as the director of distance learning faculty development. His current focus is to educate and train users and foster the growth and capability usage of the Marine Corps' eLearning Ecosystem while seeking ways to enhance the capabilities of the ecosystem to best support training and education throughout the Marine Corps. In addition to his experiences in the field of education, Keith is a United States Marine Veteran who served for more than 23 years before retiring in 2008.