

Stroede Center for the Arts Reopening Guidelines

We welcome you back to the Stroede Center for the Arts. For the safety of our audience, we are reopening with the following COVID-19 guidelines:

- We are opening with a limited capacity of 60 people to ensure proper social distancing.
- We will be cleaning and sanitizing high touch surface areas prior to each performance.
- In order to protect our audience members, our employees will be wearing masks. We require our guests to do so as well.
- There will be a hand sanitizing station at both of our entrances. We encourage you to sanitize your hands upon entry into the building.
- If you already have a ticket for an event, please display your ticket upon entering the building and then hold on to your ticket. If you wish to purchase a ticket at the door, they will only be available if our capacity has not been met.
- If you would like a program for the event, please pick one up in the lobby.
- Concessions will be available at our movie events. Our employees will be wearing masks and gloves in order to serve you safely.
- If there is an intermission during an event, we ask you to maintain social distancing and not congregate for your safety.
- After an event we will dismiss the audience by sections in order to maintain social distancing at the exits.
- If you wish to purchase merchandise from an artist, we ask you to remain in your seat until everyone has been dismissed. We will then form a purchase line while maintaining social distancing.
- Thank you for attending our events. We've missed you!
