ABOUT US

The Rome City summer experience program is offered by Rome City Institute, the only Institution in Italy that offers specific programs for international student-athletes. We represent the main bridge between Italy and players from all over the world.

Our staff is composed of some of the most qualified and experienced professionals in the sports industry, and our mission is to develop the next generation of soccer leaders.

THE SMI METHODOLOGY

Distinct from traditional training, the SMI Methodology is rooted in ecological validity and deliberate practice aimed at inspiring players to become problem-solving leaders both on and off the pitch. Players adopting our methodology will benefit from cognitive, mechanical, psychological, technical, physiological and tactical development. Using this holistic approach, the SMI Methodology aims to develop any player both individually and collectively to become a truly complete footballer.
