This is a real preview that we have sent to one of our clients!

Dear Fancort Customers & Suppliers,

I hope you and your families are all doing well and keeping safe.

Like all of you the Fancort Team has been profoundly impacted by the evolving COVID 19 pandemic. Our leadership team has taken proactive and decisive steps to ensure the wellness of our team, our customers, and our suppliers. Fancort Industries takes the COVID-19 pandemic very seriously and is implementing social distancing, work from home, and greater hygiene measures to protect the health of our company and our community.

In accordance with the US Department of Defense Under Secretary, Fancort Industries Inc. has been designated as part of the "Essential Critical Infrastructure Workforce" because our products and services support the Federal Government and US military. We are therefore maintaining operations for the support of these functions while also instituting the above mitigation measures.

We look forward to being your go to source for tooling and engineered solutions through these challenging times. If you have any questions or need help with your project please don't hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Jared Sandman
