Jewish, Hebrew & Israelites are all the same group of people.

In the Old Testament the Jewish people had their Passover. When the evil Pharaoh thought that there were too many Hebrew children born in Egypt and that they would be powerful enough to take over, he commanded that all first born sons and animals were to be killed.

The Israelites had the blood of an unblemished lamb smeared on the lintels and doorpost of their homes.

When the angel of death saw the blood on the house, it was passed over. (Passover) No harm came to that house.

The Hebrew people left quickly. They had no time to let their bread rise. They left with unleavened bread.
