REFLECTION FROM FR. RALPH

I think it's safe to say, generally speaking, that whether a Catholic, Christian, someone practicing another religion, and in some cases, even some agnostics and atheists, we often hear people saying that Jesus was "a good person". Now, there isn't anything necessarily wrong with this, but does this fully account for who Jesus is? For us as Catholics, Jesus is the Son of God who existed from before all ages with God the Father, who, at the proper time, entered the world as one of us, save sin, and through Him, God fulfilled the Great Plan of Salvation. Ultimately, Jesus was and is that one final sacrifice offered for the salvation of souls. Finally, as He walked among us, Jesus was "holy", and as it is for us today, Jesus Christ is seated at the right hand of God the Father, perpetually interceding on our behalf. So, what one can say about Jesus is far loftier than mere human references and terminology, and what we strive to do to be good disciples, and to live, worship and pray as a matter of faith, involves what can be called "sacred".

In the Gospel for this weekend, Jesus Himself enters into a synagogue, and upon reading from the scroll of the prophet Isaiah, confirms that He Himself was religious, obedient to the faith of the Jewish people, worshiped observantly, endorsed the prophetic revelation of God's Word, and in doing so, He not only affirmed the divine origin of the Israelite Faith, He stated clearly that, not only is the revelation of God true, He is the fulfillment of the revelation of God - ultimately He IS the revelation of God; and in doing so within the context of Liturgical practice, He thereby affirmed that the Liturgical observance and action of the Church too, is "holy". With all above in mind, please consider the following section of Sacrosanctum Concilium, a Document issued during the Second Vatican Council in December 1963:

"Christ is always present to his Church, especially in the actions of the liturgy. He is present in the sacrifice of the Mass, in the person of the minister (it is the same Christ who formerly offered himself on the cross that now offers by the ministry of priests) and most of all under the eucharistic species. He is present in the sacraments by his power, in such a way that when someone baptizes, Christ himself baptizes. He is present in his word, for it is he himself who speaks when the holy Scriptures are read in the Church. Finally, he is present when the Church prays and sings, for he himself promised: Where two or three are gathered in my name, I am there in their midst.

Indeed, in this great work which gives perfect glory to God and brings holiness to men, Christ is always joining in partnership with himself his beloved Bride, the Church, which calls upon its Lord and through him gives worship to the eternal Father.

It is therefore right to see the liturgy as an exercise of the priestly office of Jesus Christ, in which through signs addressed to the senses man's sanctification is signified and, in a way proper to each of these signs, made effective, and in which public worship is celebrated in its fullness by the mystical body of Jesus Christ, that is, by the head and by his members.

Accordingly, every liturgical celebration, as an activity of Christ the priest and of his body, which is the Church, is a sacred action of a pre-eminent kind. No other action of the Church equals its title to power or its degree of effectiveness.

In the liturgy on earth we are given a foretaste and share in the liturgy of heaven, celebrated in the holy city of Jerusalem, the goal of our pilgrimage, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God, as minister of the sanctuary and of the true tabernacle. With the whole company of heaven we sing a hymn of praise to the Lord; as we reverence the memory of the saints, we hope to have some part with them, and to share in their fellowship; we wait for the Savior, our Lord Jesus Christ, until he, who is our life, appears, and we appear with him in glory.

By an apostolic tradition taking its origin from the very day of Christ's resurrection, the Church celebrates the paschal mystery every eighth day, the day that is rightly called the Lord's day. On Sunday the Christian faithful ought to gather together, so that by listening to the word of God and sharing in the Eucharist they may recall the passion, death and resurrection of the Lord Jesus and give thanks to God who has given them a new birth with a lively hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. The Lord's Day is therefore the first and greatest festival, one to be set before the loving devotion of the faithful and impressed upon it, so that it may be also a day of joy and of freedom from work. Other celebrations must not take precedence over it, unless they are truly of the greatest importance, since it is the foundation and the kernel of the whole liturgical year."

May you and I always strive to keep in mind that whatever anyone may say about Jesus, both inside and outside of the Church, Jesus was holy, and through the ministry of the Church, in His name, and according to His will, we too are called to be holy, and through the liturgical, sacramental ministry of the Church, we are made "holy", and that's because above all else, Jesus Christ Himself is "holy".

Father Ralph
