The CA Department of Education spending rate average is $23,791 per student.

Our local schools per student spending rate is between $6,000 and $17,000 per student.

So this gives you something to think about....

Corey A. DeAngelis

@DeAngelisCorey

We spend $15,424 per child per year in public schools

Imagine if that money went directly to families

A teacher could set up a microschool with just 10 students and pull in $154,240 a year.

Of the $319 million Bill Gates gave to media outlets by November 2021,NPR received $24,663,000 and PBS got at least $4 million. In return those “public interest”broadcasters aired flattering reports on Gates’s corrupt self dealing and profiteering on his global vaccine projects and his hostile takeover of WHO. Gates’s climate strategy is top down social control and geo engineering projects for which he owns the IP. While shorting Tesla,he has invested heavily in fossil fuels,rail ,private jet companies and chemical pesticides and petroleum based AG.He accurately characterizes his approach as “ philanthrocapitalism”-a strategy of amplifying his billions by appearing to solve social problems with technologies that he controls and profits from.
